PEDRO DOMECQ'S SHERRIES

Established in 1730, the ancient Spanish house of P. Domecq's has preserved, developed, and enlarged its incomparable stock of the oldest and finest Sherries extant in a manner that in the present fifth generation the 11 bodegas harbor millions of dollars' worth of those wines. It is the privilege of Washingtonians to have at hand in their midst an array to select from of the grandest Xerez products. In the stock of Domecy's sole distrib-

there is in dozens of original casks a collection of nineteen of those Sher-ries, which is without contradiction the best selected in this country. The choice of these Wines was made on different trips to Spain by expert F. Pohndorff, who in his youth was for seventeen years connected with viticul-ture and viniculture in Xerez. Not enhanced by commission and second-tand expenses, the prices of Chris. Xander are necessaril; most moderate. Xerez palido (82 gal.; 60c full qt.) is several points above average trade-quality. Amaroso, $3 gal., 75c full qut., is a lovely table Sherry that at its orice surprises.

Several grand table Sherries at $5 and $6 gal, may not be matched by de wines 30 or 40 per cent higher in price. The merits as to delicacy, grance, and taste are patent in several Old Montilla, Manzanilla, Amanillado, and some Court and Club Solera Sherries, in Amontillados of 1878, 2, and 1842, in Brown Sherry of great age ($4 gal., $1 qt.) and ancient Musel of syrupy density, that outlive any similar in trade. Old rich Xereio that has been for forty years in the wood, ranks high above ancient itage. Maderas, kept dead in bottles and charms everybody.
